

Holiday Gift Guide 2020: The Best Luxury Napa Valley Cabernet Sauvignon Wines

Michelle Williams Contributor
Spirits

In a year marred by plague and wild fires, a classic bottle of Napa Valley Cabernet Sauvignon is the ideal gift for any wine lover.

Having survived an earthquake in 2014 and raging forest fires in 2017 and 2020, Napa Valley symbolizes resilience—a glimmer of much needed hope this holiday season.

While the 2020 vintage is not entirely lost, the region's typical Cabernet Sauvignon production is diminished by up to 80%. This year, giving a luxurious bottle of Napa Valley wine serves two purposes: It honors the oenophile in your life with a spectacular bottle of wine, while also supporting one of the world's premium wine regions in a challenging year.

These are cellar worthy wines, age them for ten or more years for maximum enjoyment.

Sullivan Rutherford Estate Cabernet Sauvignon | SULLIVAN

2017 Sullivan Rutherford Estate Cabernet Sauvignon $110: 87% Cabernet Sauvignon, 13% Petit Verdot. Fresh and jammed black and blue fruit, cassis, baking spice, dark chocolate, roasted coffee, dried tobacco, black pepper, and vanilla. Lush and juicy with ripe tannins, fresh acidity and opulent finish.