

2018 Coeur de Vigne, Rutherford Cabernet Sauvignon

Rutherford to the core, the Coeur de Vigne shows ample savory notes of dried herb and dark chocolate. Voluptuous might be an overstatement, but there is a density to the core that is coating and juicy, and the savory bitter chocolate is so addicting that putting the glass down is not an option. Did I fail to mention the toastiness? Well, that coupled with the cocoa powder simply melts in your mouth giving a perceived sweetness that lingers and carries all the way through the finish. Has it been thirty seconds, because I can still taste and feel the wine and it is evolving in such a way that I simply must have another sip? What a great wine, from a great vintage, from a unique site that is rivaled by none! Enjoy for the next 10 years.
