Aero Announces A New Route Connecting Los Angeles To Napa, California

By Justin Foster — Published Aug 26, 2024

SUMMARY

- Aero unveils a new route connecting Los Angeles to Napa Valley starting September 20th and running through November.
- Tickets for this semi-private jet service start at $725 one way.
- Access to exclusive vineyard tours and luxury resorts is included in the travel package.

The semi-private air carrier known as Aero has officially unveiled a new route. This route is scheduled to connect Van Nuys Airport (VNY) in Los Angeles, California, to Napa County Airport (APC) in Napa, California. The new flights are set to depart for the first time on September 20, and the flights are scheduled to run until November, later this fall.

About the new flights

RELATED

A Closer Look At Aero And Its Semi-Private Flights
The air carrier has recently been taking the US West Coast by storm.

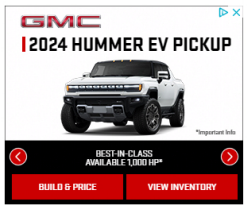
On Monday, August 26, Aero officially announced the launch of its new service. This flight will be a weekly service connecting Los Angeles to the Napa Valley, and it will operate as follows:

- Departs Van Nuys Airport (VNY) on Fridays at 15:30 local time and arrives at Napa County Airport (APC) at 16:45 local time
- Departs Van Nuys Airport (VNY) on Sundays at 09:30 local time and arrives at Napa County Airport (APC) at 10:45 local time
- Departs Napa County Airport (APC) on Fridays at 17:40 local time and arrives at Van Nuys Airport (VNY) at 18:55 local time
- Departs Napa County Airport (APC) on Sundays at 12:00 local time and arrives at Van Nuys Airport (VNY) at 13:15 local time

Ad

These flights are expected to take just one hour, and the Aero aircraft will land just 15 minutes from downtown Napa. The route will be available for travelers beginning on September 20, and it will run until November later this year.

Tickets for this premium semi-private jet service begin at just $725 per person one



Ad

Airline News

Premium Only: Air France Rebrands Its Premium Economy...

Aer Lingus Opens New Lounge In London Heathrow

JetBlue Plans To End These 50 Routes Over The Next Year

See More

Trending Now

How Many American Combat Aviation 'Aces' Are There?

United Airlines Downgrades Business Class Passengers On...

NetJets Cessna Citation XLS Runs Into Terminal At Teterboro Airport

way. On these flights, Aero travelers are allowed to fly with up to two checked bags, and on their route back from Napa, they are allowed to carry up to two cases of wine at no additional cost.

The Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of Aero, Ben Klein, spoke about the new route, stating,

Ad

> "Our community has expressed interest in visiting Napa, and we've worked hard to make their dream a reality, just in time for the harvest season. Landing next to downtown Napa just over an hour after departing Los Angeles on a scheduled flight is extremely rare. Typically, this is only possible by flying private. Aero's new service to wine country is just one example of our strategic approach to growth in 2024: we're listening to feedback from the market and responding with innovative solutions. Guests can now fly to difficult-to-reach premier leisure destinations during peak seasonal time frames."

Additional experiences

Several other additional experiences are included in this travel package. Aero has partnered with two Auberge Resorts Collection properties that are located in Napa Valley. The two partnered resorts are Solage, a 25-acre luxury resort in wine country, and Stanly Ranch, a 712-acre luxury resort.

Additionally, guests have the ability to immerse themselves in exclusive vineyard tours throughout Napa Valley. This includes attending tastings at the award-winning Sullivan Rutherford Estate and Eisele Vineyard, which Aero has partnered with. Aero has previously created unique experiences for passengers at different destinations. Some of Aero's unique destinations include Aspen, Sun Valley, and Los Cabos.

Ad

Private Aviation North America Private Jet

Follow

THREAD 2

Sign In To Your Simple Flying Account

We want to hear from you! Share your opinions in the thread below and remember to keep it respectful.

Reply / Post

Sort by: Popular

Raphael

2024-08-26 14:37:17

Are they, like JSX, a Part 121 operator?

Dodged

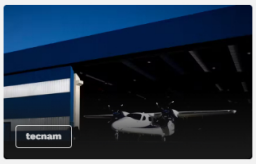
2024-08-27 12:40:11

Sounds like a steal. I'd do it, if I had the spare coins.

Terms | Privacy | Feedback

Ad

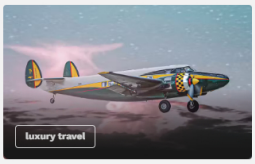
RECOMMENDED



Tecnam Reveals Orders For Over 60 New Aircraft

Two flight schools placed orders for a significant number of aircraft.

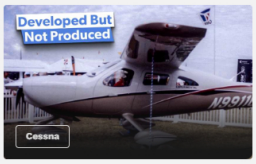
1 day ago 1



Luxury In The 1960s: A Look At The Howard 500

The Howard 500 was one of the first to offer luxury to executive travelers.

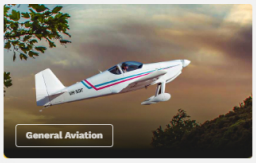
Aug 31, 2024 15



4 Unique Aircraft That Cessna Developed But Did Not Produce

Cessna has tried to jumpstart several different programs over the years.

3 days ago 2



Unique Way To Fly: 4 Popular Kit Aircraft

Trainee pilots generally learn to fly in such aircraft.

3 days ago 1

Formula 1 Announces Investment In Sustainable Aviation Fuel

This investment is part of F1's goal to reach Net Zero by 2030.

4 days ago 12

From Concept to Sky: Five Interesting Facts About the Mitsubishi MU-2

The MU-2 is a unique design in the annals of private turboprop aircraft.

12 hours ago 1

GMC
2024
BEST-IN-CLASS 11,500 LB-FT OF AVAILABLE TORQUE
BUILD & PRICE

let you design a unique, engaging website